Les cités et les villes où il existe d'autres établissements de ce genre sont Belleville, Brockville, Guelph, Hamilton, Kitchener, London, Midland, Owen Sound, Oshawa, Peterboro, Stratford, St. Catharines, Walkerville, Welland, Vindsor et York County. A ce dernier comté revient le mérite d'avoir établi la première classe auxiliaire rurale d'Ontario. Ce qui précède s'applique uniquement aux institutions et aux classes recevant des allocations spéciales du gouvernement. Il existe en Ontario au moins quatre écoles dans lesquelles les enfants sont classifiés selon le degré de leur intelligence et où les enfants supérieurement doués sont l'objet d'attentions spéciales. Ontario possède aussi un certain nombre d'écoles privées pour les enfants anormaux.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Tous les enfants aux facultés mentales défectueuses de la Saskatchewan sont dans une institution à Weyburn, laquelle en 1923 comptiait 180 pensionnaires. De ce nombre les 45 compris dans le tableau ci-dessus sont ceux qui ont pu suivre l'enseignement donné aux enfants normaux de 4, 4½ et 5 ans. Les admissions en 1923 et 1924 ont été bien inférieures aux années précédentes; de plus, ces admissions contenaient un plus fort pourcentage d'élèves au degré d'imbécillité moins prononcé. Environ 60 p.c. des admissions de 1924 seraient dans ce cas. Les 9 délinquants étaient des filles.

Nota—Les détails des classes spéciales des 5 provinces mentionnées dans ce tableau nous viennent directement du ministère de l'Instruction publique de ces provinces et se rapportent à l'année qui nous occupe. En ce qui concerne les autres provinces, les informations ne nous parviennent pas directement. En 1923, le gouvernement du Nouveau-Brunswick envoyait 6 instituteurs aux cours d'été de Harvard. Depuis lors plusieurs classes ont été établies à St. John. Dans Québec, il existe un certain nombre de classes spéciales privées, dont une pour les enfants perclus et une pour les épileptiques, tenue dans un des hôpitaux. Le Manitoba, la Saskatchewan et l'Alberta pourvoient à l'enseignement des aveugles et des sourds, voir tableau 90: l'institution de Winnipeg pour ces derniers sert pour les trois provinces; antérieurement on envoyait les aveugles à Brantford, Ont. Winnipeg possède maintenant une institution pour ses aveugles. En Colombie Britannique, outre les institutions pour les aveugles et les sourds, Vancouver seule,, possède 20 classes spéciales.

1Soit 953 hommes et 3,027 femmes. <sup>2</sup> Les 3 non spécifiés sont des instituteurs échangés. <sup>3</sup> Pour le dernier semestre seulement. Les permis ne sont accordés que pour un semestre à la fois.

Nore.—With the exception of first column the figures for Manitoba are for 1923 and exclusive of Winnipeg and certain other schools. The number of teachers classified (2,871) is, therefore, a mere sample, though a large one, of the teachers outside Winnipeg.

Nore—A l'exception de ceux de la première colonne, les chiffres du tableau ci-dessus sont ceux de 1923 et laissent de côté les écoles de Winnipeg et certaines autres. Par conséquent, les 2,871 instituteurs classifiés ne représentent que la majeure partie du personnel enseignant, en dehors de Winnipeg.

Note.—It will be seen that Govt. Grants (except the Special Grants) are not included in the above table. The omission of these explains most of the difference between the receipts above and those in the following table.

Note.—On remarquera que les allocations du gouvernement (hormis les octrois spéciaux) ne figurent pas le Tableau ci-dessus. Cette omission explique presque entièrement la différence entre le chiffres des recettes de ce tableau et du tableau suivant.

1 The comparison of fees and expenditure as between universities, involves certain misleading features which are partially segregated by classifying them as above; eg., some universities included board and lodging in their receipts. You fees, Naturally this item would enter into the current, and silghtly into capital expenditure. This partially explains the comparatively large amount of fees of and longing in their receipts. It a comparatison eather les universities d'abord de leurs revenus dérivés des sontributions des étudiants, puis de leurs dépenses, est susceptible de conduire à des déductions inexactes; par exemple, quelques universités font figurer la pension des étudiants internes avec ces contributions, naturellement ees recettes ont leur contrepartie dans les dépenses au compte capital. C'est ce qui explique le chiffre relativement élevé des contributions encaissées par les universités d'un exactère confessionel.

PREFACE

The present issue of the Annual Survey of Education in Canada shows upon the whole a continuation of the trends mentioned in last year's review. There are evidences of decreases in capital expenditure on schools and on teachers' salaries, also that the supply of trained teachers in some of the provinces is now meeting the demand. During the war years building was at a standstill, thus necessitating a heavy expenditure on new buildings during the years immediately following. Decreases in capital expenditure were therefore, to be expected once this necessity was met. It is open to question whether or not the two features mentioned in connection with teachers are inter-connected.

A somewhat full analysis is made on the educational standing of pupils according to age on page xi. The charts on pages xvi and xvii indicate that the gain during the first two or three years of school age is the most important element entering into the difference between the standing of one pupil and that of another at any given age. A summary of the number of pupils and students in different educational institutions is given in Table 1 to which summary is added an estimate of the proportion in secondary and higher grades.

Two new features have been added to this year's report: viz., a summary of the regulations governing child welfare on page lii and a new part (Part III) devoted to statistics and legislation relating to Canadian libraries.

The report proper is in two parts, with introductory notes by way of a glossary of terms and a summary of certain regulations in different provinces. Part I consists of a review of educational activities during the year in each province, together with a summary of activities for the whole Dominion and of higher institutions, private schools and national movements. To this are appended summaries of educational legislation during the year and of existing regulations governing child welfare. Part II consists of statistical tables, these being arranged in fourteen sections. The first four sections show activities in regular publicly controlled schools; the fifth section deals with secondary education; sections six to eight cover special educational organizations, including consolidation, special classes and institutions, school hygiene and technical education; sections nine and ten give the statistics relating to teachers; section eleven deals with the cost of school support; sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen are devoted to higher education, private schools and Indian schools, respectively. Part III of the report, as already stated, contains the statistics of Canadian libraries, with an appendix on library legislation.

The report has been prepared under the direction of Mr. M. C. MacLean, M.A., Chief of the Education Statistics Branch of the Bureau, the part on Canadian libraries being contributed by Miss Grace S. Lewis, the librarian of the Bureau. The Branch, it will be recalled, was established in 1919, its operations being defined and outlined at a conference of the Bureau and representatives of the Provincial Departments of Education. Under the arrangements since worked out, the records of publicly controlled education in the several provinces have been reduced to a large degree of comparability and homogeneity, the Bureau now making certain compilations for several of the provinces and conferring with each province as to the data herein presented. The thanks of the Bureau are hereby tendered for the cordial co-operation of the provinces in this connection. The sections of the report on private schools, business colleges, higher education, and miscellaneous educational activities not under provincial control, also the report on the cognate subject of libraries, are prepared in the Bureau independently.
